DUT WALLY!

Is your number far up in the list, as drawn in the lottery at Washington? If so, it is your privilege to light to uphold the sacred principles of humanity, oppose tyranny and maintain the bonot and dignity of the United States. If not, your turn may come later.

Despite all the columns of information which have been printed, showing the operation of the draft, and the purposes of the government in detail, there exists much ignorance regarding some phases of the draft. Forget the precinct numbers on your registration card, both the number of the precinct and that showing the order in which you registered. You have no further use for them save that the number of the precinct shows in what exemption distinct you belong. Every registered man is supposed to have learned in what exemption distinct you belong. Every registered man is supposed to have learned in what exemption distinct you belong. While El Paro's quota has not yet been officially announced, it will be approximately 600 for actual service in the army, at the first call. Of these, 250 will come from district number 1, and 350 from district number 2. More than half of those registered are aliens, and at least half of those registered are aliens, and at least half of these remainder will probably be enbject to exemption at the first call. Consequently, there will probably be remised to exemption at the first call. Consequently, there will probably be remised to exemption at the first call. Consequently, there will probably be remised to exemption at the first call. Consequently, there will probably be realied up for exemination before the district boards, about 1000 men in district number 1, and 1400 in district number 2.

Any El Paso man desiring to know if he is likely to be called in this first examination group may therefore ascertain with approximate accuracy by finding out his place in the serial number left as printed in The Herald, any man registered may find his arrial number 1 finds his number lower down than the 1000th number. Or if he is in district number 2, lower down than the 1000th number in the serial list, he is not likely to be called in the first group for examination, but will be caught probably in the stoud call unless he is beyond the 2000th or 2800th number respectively; and so on.

The Herald will print names only of those likely to be called in the first group, and in the latter part of this list endy English speaking citizens are focluded.

People called up The Herald while the drawing was in progress, asking varied information regarding it. Some respectively; and so on.

First and last, this draft is the personal business of every man registered and he should be on his toes to find out every-thing about it that concerns him. ## The Big Family

UR FAMILY, in times of peace, has many rows and wrangles; it some times takes the town police to quell our jangles. Then mother, losing all her tast, complains of which and tother, and father reads the riot act, and sister mays her brother. Sometimes the pans and skillets fly, heaved by indignant tonser, and uncle catches, with his eye, perhaps, a cup or saucer. Sometimes our grandma takes a broom and knocks the dust from aunite, and now times our grandma takes a broom and knocks the dust from auntie, and now and then we wreck a ruom, and fairly rock the shanty. But if a neighbor seeks our door, with warlike trus and bluffing, we cease our rows forevermore, and from him knock the stuffing. Forgotten every grievance then, all friction has an ending; the women line up with the men, our little shack defending. In normal times this happy land is full of noisy friskers, who see that harmony is canned, and pull each other's whiskers. A stranger standing on a height, our ways not understanding, would think we lived to whose and fight, some neighbor's scale demanding. But when outsiders come along, to mix in, uninvited, we cease to thrash the private wrong, and we all stand united.
